OBI Active 7 – January 2018 Portfolio Update

Investment Objective

This type of portfolio is NOT a risk free portfolio, rather, it is suitable for a client whose is prepared to invest into equities for the majority of the time and is focused more on the return than the risk, hoping that by doing this they can achieve greater medium term returns. The portfolio is managed dynamically by altering the asset allocation using assets that carry market risk, and using all assets that are available from the investment universe. The asset allocation in this portfolio will vary between a benchmark of 0% equity and 75% equity to achieve the portfolio objectives, provided economic conditions permit. The portfolio will be managed to try and limit the indicative capital loss in any 12-month period to 15% following a significant event and 8% in normal market conditions and to target an annualised total return averaged out over a full economic cycle (5 – 7 years) of 8% plus.

The benchmark we use for comparison purposes for volatility is AFI Balanced noting this benchmark currently holds 66.0% in Equity (Analytics 1st January 2018) and is therefore more aggressive and has no capital preservation mandate. It would be expected therefore that the benchmark would outperform the model and that the volatility would be higher. The model performance therefore cannot be directly compared to the benchmark.

Outlook & Positioning

The OBI Active 7 is the third of our balanced portfolios that is still considered balanced as regards to the underlying asset allocation which can vary anywhere between 0% and 75% and as with all of our portfolios balances the mandate between delivering the outcome and protecting capital. Throughout 2017, the global equity markets saw synchronised growth, with the US leading the way based on solid earnings data and valuations. This is largely attributed to the current global reflation trend and the resilient economic data generated throughout the speculative stage of the economic cycle. Markets were relatively calm and quiet throughout 2017 in terms of volatility, however in Q3 we saw some volatility feeding its way into the markets, mostly driven by various economic and political risks, however these have seemed to disperse in Q4 and into 2018. As global economic data is improving and reaching record highs, from a valuation and analysis perspective, investors are relatively cautious after the volatility seen in Q3 and are questioning how long the rally will last. This is not identifying anything serious at this juncture, and we did go defensive during the volatility period, however we have started to approach a more 'normalised' approach towards our equity allocation and will maintain our conviction until the economic data will suggest otherwise.

Our non-equity exposure is achieved through Global and UK High Yield and Absolute Return assets, multi asset funds that are cautious and finally Infrastructure. We have moved the portfolios to something that has lower market sensitivity, so the holdings are now measured using volatility based equity and non-equity holdings. From an equity perspective, most of the asset allocation is achieved through a high exposure to globally managed funds with directional exposure to markets we believe show upward growth. The remaining assets are held in globally diverse funds which will be tactically rotated by the underlying fund managers with a 20% directional asset allocation to UK, Europe and Asia. We will remain underweight UK until we see better data and stability in the underlying UK economy. In terms of our equity allocation, we are holding circa 66.3% in equities which is in line with the benchmark. We would expect this to fluctuate during 2018 as we take profits and only repurchase again following periods of volatility and falling valuations, in line with the mandate of the portfolio. Following this, we will rotate lesser performing assets from within the non-equity sector and add to our equity allocation.
